Circulation Ratings.

While the annual revision of the AMERICAN NEWSPAPER DIRECTORY is in progress, every publisher of a periodical is afforded an opportunity to place on file at the Directory office a true statement of his actual issues for the preceding year. If he prefers a report that is more easily prepared, he is permitted to file a true statement of what has been his smallest issue within the year.

If such a report, duly signed and dated, is received (before January 15th), the paper is in every case rated in accordance with its detailed statements, in plain figures, preceded by the words in italics, actual average for the past year or smallest edition issued within a year, as the publisher may have indicated. To be correctly rated costs no publisher anything; all that he has to do is to know how many copies he prints; state the facts and sign and date the statement. A reward of $25 is at any time at the disposal of any publisher who proves that a true report of either of the two sorts indicated above was furnished (before January 15th), and was not accepted and adopted. Statements of average circulations, being liable to be based upon erroneous information, are not accepted as satisfactory unless accompanied by the figures showing how the average was arrived at.

As advertisers have no interest in knowing the circulation of papers in which no advertisements are inserted, such papers are not accorded a circulation rating. Circulation ratings are also omitted in the case of publications not catalogued in the Directory for last year; the reason for this last omission being that there has not yet been time sufficient to enable the circulation to become established.

* NOTE:—Following is a complete list of rewards paid for the discovery of untruthful ratings in the Directory, which were given upon the publisher's detailed statement and therefore guaranteed to be correct: In 1888, Waukegan (Ill.) Gazette. In 1889, Madison (Wis.) Skandinavisk Tribune. In 1891, Prospect (Ohio) Advance. In 1892, St. Louis (Mo.) Anzeiger des Westens, Atlanta (Ga.) Dixie Doctor, San Francisco (Cal.) Call. In 1893, Muskogee (Ind. Ter.) Our Brother in Red, Monon (Ind.) News, Montfort (Wis.) Monitor. In 1894, Topeka (Kan.) Saturday Evening Lance, Minneapolis (Minn.) Farm, Stock and Home, Chicago (Ill.) Western Rural, Los Angeles (Cal.) Family Ledger, Seattle (Wash.) Press-Times.

PREFACE.

The AMERICAN NEWSPAPER DIRECTORY for 1869 was the first publication to give a complete list of newspapers published in the United States and Canada, together with circulation ratings. This volume was so eagerly welcomed that its publishers were confirmed in their determination to issue the book annually, in order to chronicle the many changes so constantly occurring in the newspaper world, and regularly, therefore, for twenty-seven years the AMERICAN NEWSPAPER DIRECTORY has appeared. Each year, it is believed, through the experience of its compilers and additional means of gaining information, it has become more accurate and trustworthy, so that its acknowledged position as the standard authority on American newspaper statistics has been fully maintained from the outset. As an instance of the value of such a work it is stated in the preface to the first edition that single copies of a list of newspapers, published in the Southern States alone and prepared with considerable accuracy, had been sold to advertisers for one hundred and fifty dollars.

CIRCULATION.

The circulation ratings accorded in this book represent the average issue of the publication for the year preceding the date of the report. Practically they represent the average issue for the year 1894. Ratings stated in figures, or by a letter followed by one asterisk, are, in all cases, based upon a report furnished by the publisher. Such ratings are absolutely reliable. The publishers of the AMERICAN NEWSPAPER DIRECTORY will pay a reward of $100 for each and every case where it shall be proved that a paper rated in figures, or by a letter followed by one asterisk, was not entitled to the rating accorded.

GUARANTEED RATINGS.

To be correctly rated in the AMERICAN NEWSPAPER DIRECTORY it is only necessary for a publisher to know what his edition has been for a year preceding the date of his report, be willing to set forth the facts as they were, date the statement and sign it with a pen. Every such report, delivered to the publishers of the AMERICAN NEWSPAPER DIRECTORY, is accepted, believed, and the paper rated in accordance. A reward of $25 is at the service of any and every publisher who proves that he handed in such a report and that it was not believed, accepted, and his paper accorded the circulation rating established by the statement.

REPORTS RECEIVED.

During the compilation of the present issue a report of some kind was received from 12,505 publications, considerably more than one-half of the entire number published—a much larger percentage than ever before. Each of the remaining publications, catalogued in full, was either seen and examined or otherwise believed to be still in existence. Reports from 4,459 publications gave actual circulation figures covering the full year preceding, and each one of these is rated in Arabic figures in accordance with the report, the correctness of such figures being guaranteed under a forfeiture of $100. It is gratifying to note that these guaranteed ratings increase in number each year. Formerly only one report in twenty was of this kind; now it is one in three, and one in five of the entire number of newspapers published. Reports from 5,687 were not sufficiently definite to enable the editor (after correspondence with the publishers) to arrive at the exact issues for a year, and the circulation in each of these cases is indicated by a rating letter followed by two stars, as explained in the Key, to be found on inside page of first cover. These circulations are not guaranteed.

THE INTERROGATION POINT.

Newspapers which appeared in the Directory for 1894, but concerning which, after repeated attempts, no information could be obtained, are entered by name and frequency of issue, followed by an interrogation point.

PUBLISHERS' STATEMENTS.

In the present Directory a valuable feature has been admitted, giving publishers an opportunity to state, in their own words and on their own responsibility, whatever they may have to say about their publications, immediately following the technical description of their papers. All such notices are preceded by the word "Advertisement." Not very long ago an offer of five thousand dollars was made by a New York publisher for a similar notice, and refused at the office of the Directory. The privilege is now granted to all publishers alike for a nominal sum.

NUMBER OF NEWSPAPERS.

In 1894 the Directory catalogued 20,169 newspapers. Of these 2,133 have since died, leaving 18,036. The present Directory contains 20,395 newspapers, 2,359 of which are new or appear for the first time.

It is interesting to note the yearly changes in the number of newspapers catalogued in the annual editions, as shown in the following table :

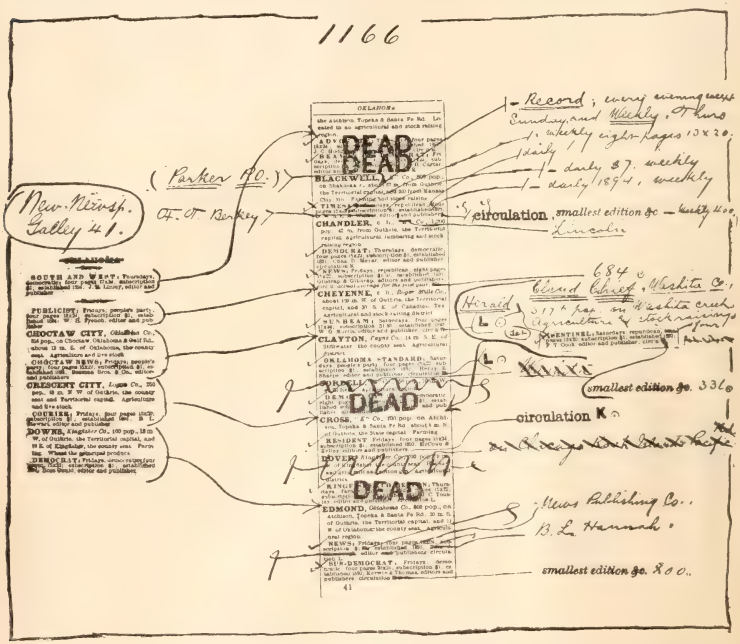
In 1869, Kansas had 69 newspapers, Colorado 16 and Denver a population of 6,000. Only 83 newspapers then claimed a circulation of as much as 20,000, and the total number of agricultural publications was 67.

The Annual Revision.

Just as soon as the first complete set of the sheets of the American Newspaper Directory for 1895 is received from the binders, the leaves will be separated and each separate half page or column will be pasted on a full page of graphic process. These corrections would appear much more conspicuously on the sheet were it not the practice to set descriptions of new papers in type and then attach the printed instead of manuscript copy.



mammoth blank books prepared for the purpose. These pages are intended to afford ample room for making all needed corrections, and the work of revision of the Directory for the next issue (1896) immediately begins. Many people find it difficult to realize that there is a necessity for an annual revision of such a book. For the edification of these people, a half page of the 1894 volume, pasted on a sheet taken from one of the great blank books above referred to, is here reproduced, having been reduced by photo-

A glance at the fac-simile enables one to realize the enormous amount of labor, time, care and attention to detail that are involved in revising such a book, and the absolute need that the revision shall be performed at least as often as once a year. It will be noticed that in the half page of reports, four papers are shown to have gone out of existence and that their places have been made more than good by eight new publications. Only five reports in the entire half page of ratings fail to receive some sort of a revision.

Of the papers which are not dead, some have changed editors, others the publication day or frequency of issue. One paper has changed its name, another its post-office address, another its size, another its publisher and another its subscription price. All these changes must be recorded, and when it is remembered that the Directory contains more than twelve hundred and sixty pages and deals with more than twenty thousand papers, the amount of labor involved in revising the entire volume can be realized. It is necessary for an advertiser to keep himself informed of the various changes noted by the Directory, and it is not hard to understand, therefore, why it is that the most successful advertisers are never without a copy of the current issue close at hand.

As soon as a new edition of the American Newspaper Directory is distributed, its publishers receive numerous communications and inquiries which require answers prepared with care, and going more into details than would be possible in a letter. It was with a view of attending fully to these that the following information has been compiled.

This information should be carefully considered by every person attempting to pass criticism upon the methods and rules adopted for the annual revision of the Directory. They are the result of twenty-seven years of painstaking experiment. It has from time to time been the practice to submit these rules to the inspection of the principal officers of the various associations of Editors and Publishers, of which there are so many of local, State or National importance. They have been requested to criticise the plan of publication; and whenever a suggestion has been concurred in to any considerable degree, it has been adopted. The same careful consideration and criticism is invited from the advertising public, and from all who have occasion to make use of the American Newspaper Directory.

The only point upon which the Directory appears to be open to much criticism is its statements and estimates of the circulation of the various newspapers catalogued.

In order that these may be considered understandingly, it is necessary to carefully keep in mind these facts here set down:

FIRST.

The Directory was issued in June, 1895.

SECOND.

The circulation ratings accorded are not the editions that the paper is now printing, but represent the actual issues for the entire year 1894.

THIRD.

If the circulation is not expressed in Arabic figures, or by a rating letter, marked with one asterisk [only one (*)], its accuracy is not guaranteed. The actual issue may have been more, and may not have been as much as indicated by the rating letter accorded.

RULES.

WHAT PAPERS TO CATALOGUE.

The Directory is intended to contain a complete catalogue of all newspapers published, and neither the name nor the circulation rating of a paper can be omitted in response to a request to that effect. Compliance with such a request would be a consent to make the Directory less than complete.

The names of new newspapers are obtained principally from the list of periodicals entered as second-class matter at the Post-Office Department at Washington, but to some extent also from postmasters and publishers. To obtain copies of these new newspapers a special post-paid wrapper is mailed to each. All so received are entered and described on cards prepared for that purpose, but no new newspaper is entered in the Directory unless a copy is at hand bearing a date later than the preceding November.

Unless there are strong reasons to the contrary, the name of a publication that is not admitted to the United States mails as second-class matter is not entered in the Directory. And under the same restrictions, any publication admitted as second-class mail matter is generally considered as entitled to be entered in the Directory.

The object in publishing the Directory is to make an actual catalogue of the legitimate press. It is desirable that publications of ephemeral character, such as are not legitimate periodicals in fact, shall not have a place in it. In order that some rule may obtain by which it can be decided whether a paper shall be catalogued or not, the following is adopted: RULE.—If in doubt whether a publication shall be included or excluded, always exclude it.

That feature which formerly led to cataloguing, under one paper, the names of other publications issued by the same publisher has been discontinued.

In cases where a paper is dated from two places, it is catalogued under the one where it is entered as second-class matter; but may be described as "dated also at" (naming the other city or town).

When one or more editions of a newspaper are issued for another town or village, after the word "publisher" in the catalogue the words "prints an edition for" [naming town], or "prints special editions for neighboring towns" shall be added, and the circulation rating in such cases shall read "combined circulation." No other mention of the extra "editions" is made.

An examination of the office files is made for a copy of each paper that fails to make response to the application for information. Such as are found are examined and noted. To such as are not found, a wrapper for a sample copy is mailed, in a "special request" envelope, and if no copy or information is obtained before February 1st, and there is no other ground for believing that the paper is still in existence, that paper is catalogued by name merely, followed by an interrogation point to indicate that its present existence is doubtful. Such papers are omitted from all county and class lists.

ABOUT CIRCULATION RATINGS.

When the name of a paper appears in the Directory for the first time, no circulation rating is accorded, unless it is the successor of another previously described. If its printed volume and number dates from its predecessor a rating may be given: but not if it begins with Vol. I., No. 1.

The classification or rating of a circulation by letter in the Directory is determined by what is believed to have been the regular issue of the publication for the entire year preceding the date of the report, which should not be earlier than December 15, or later than January 15 following.

Some newspapers fail to understand that the actual circulation average, or smallest issue, for the year past, will be stated in the Directory, in plain figures, if wanted, and the necessary figures are furnished. Every attempt is made to convey information on this point in a way that no publisher can fail to comprehend.

To report his circulation in such a way as actually to convey information to an inquirer, it is deemed necessary that a publisher shall state what it has been for an entire year.

No publisher can be certain what his circulation will be for a year to come. He can be positive, however, how many copies he has issued for the year that has passed, and advertisers think that they can judge more intelligently from a true statement of what a circulation has been than from any sort of a statement of what a publisher believes that it will be.

A circulation statement to be entirely satisfactory should be signed with a pen. If signed with a hand stamp, or with initials only, or by some person whose authority to sign is not known or stated, it cannot be accepted as one the accuracy of which it will be safe to guarantee by the usual $100 forfeit.

A report giving the number of quires used each week (instead of the actual number of copies printed) may mean for an eight-page paper one-half the actual issue reported in quires. A $100 forfeit has once been paid by the publishers of the Directory upon a deceptive circulation report of this sort. In each case of this kind it is found advisable to look at the paper. If it has four pages there are 24 copies to the quire. If eight pages, it will not be safe to allow for more than twelve.

A quire is 24 sheets, and not 25.

A ream is 480 sheets, and not 500.

If the Directory rates a circulation too high that closes the door to information from the office of the paper. The publisher has nothing to gain but something to lose by agitating the matter. On the other hand, a paper that has actually issued a larger edition regularly than it is credited with is more willing to give information. In cases of uncertainty it tends more toward accuracy in the long run if a paper is classed a little too low than if it is classed too high.

ABOUT CIRCULATION REPORTS RECEIVED.

When the report or description of a paper that has been forwarded to a publisher for revision comes back bearing a mark of acquiescence, or bearing no mark whatever, its return is taken as evidence that the publisher has examined it and had no corrections to make.

If a publisher returns a report without any remarks about his circulation rating, or fails to make any response to the application made to him for definite information, it is taken as an admission that the rating at present accorded him is high enough, whatever else may be said about it.

When a publisher claims a higher rating than has been given, and seems to be in good faith, it may possibly prevent the usual reduction of one step in his rating, even although his method of setting up his claim for a higher rating is not as definite as it ought to be; but no rating is advanced on any other than a definite statement, the accuracy of which it will be safe for the Directory to guarantee by the usual $100 forfeit.

When a publisher furnishes a true statement in detail showing the actual number of copies of each and every issue for the preceding year, the aggregate number and the average each issue, the statement being dated and properly signed, his paper is rated "actual average for the past year" (giving the average number shown by the figures in the report). When a publisher states truly that "no issue for the period of a full year preceding has been less than a certain number," the statement being duly dated and signed, the paper is rated "smallest edition issued within a year" (giving the number shown by the report).

When a publisher furnishes a statement, upon the accuracy of which the Editor of the Directory does not feel warranted in risking the $100 forfeit on account of indefiniteness of expression, not being properly signed, or any other irregularity, the paper is not always rated in the class that seems to be claimed for it, but the rating assigned is marked with two () asterisks. When one (*) asterisk is given the rating is always in accordance with the publisher's claim and its correctness is guaranteed. When two asterisks are used the rating may or may not be in accordance with the publisher's claim, and its correctness is not guaranteed. He may print more, he may print less.

When a publisher reports that he printed a certain specified number each and every issue for the year past, the same number every issue, the circulation is reported "average" instead of "smallest edition."

When a publisher states what has been his average circulation for the past year, and the statement is made definitely and is fully signed and dated (but without giving the exact figures of each issue), his report fails to entitle him to the rating letter followed by one asterisk, because the Editor of the Directory ought to see the figures by which the result was arrived at, so that he may know that the calculation was made with accuracy. No publisher can tell what his average circulation has been without first having caused the figures to be set down and the necessary calculations made; and when that has been done, he may just as well send the figures for examination and to be placed on file at the office of the Directory. A mistake may have been made, which a glance would reveal. In cases of this sort, where the publisher's statement appears reasonable, and the average shown is considerably higher than the lowest significance of the rating letter to which it appears to entitle him, the letter may be accorded, followed by one asterisk.

FINAL DISPOSITION OF CIRCULATION REPORTS.

When a report is received which does not entitle a publisher to as good a rating as appears probable that facts would warrant if he would take more care in making out his report, a communication is sent to him, indicating what sort of a rating he will receive, and conveying the information that there is still time for preparing and sending in such a report as will secure him a better rating. The circular conveying this information is spoken of in the office as the "pink circular."

When a reply to the pink circular is such as will not change the rating already decided upon, but makes it appear probable that to return it may yet bring such information as will lead to an improved rating, it may be returned, but no record is kept of the transaction, because in the absence of further information the case stands precisely as it did before the communication that was returned came to hand.

When in doubt about whether to return a a report to a paper for additional information or not, it is always returned, and if in doubt about whether to take the trouble to write a letter for the purpose of explaining matters and getting better information, or enabling the publisher to send additional information that will secure him a better rating, the letter in such a case is always written.

On account of the enormous number of periodicals having a nominal subscription list or sale, it is found advisable to avoid devoting too much time to inquiries concerning dailies not likely to be entitled to be rated above K; to weeklies, tri-weeklies, or semi-weeklies not likely to be entitled to be rated above J; or to bi-weeklies, semi-monthlies, or quarterlies not likely to be entitled to be rated above G (see key, below).

Exceeding seventy-five thousand,	A
Exceeding forty thousand,	B
Exceeding twenty thousand,	C
Exceeding seventeen th's'd five hundred,	D
Exceeding twelve thousand five hundred,	E
Exceeding seven thousand five hundred,	F
Exceeding four thousand,	G
Exceeding twenty-two hundred and fifty,	H
Exceeding eight hundred,	J
Exceeding four hundred,	K
Exceeding one hundred,	L

Inasmuch as it is plainly set forth that circulation reports should cover the period of a full year, when a statement of actual issues comes to hand covering a shorter time than a year, is accepted as an indication that a statement covering a full year would show a lower average issue.

REDUCING CIRCULATION RATINGS.

A rating stated by a letter either alone or followed by one asterisk (*) is considered to have been reduced ONE STEP if two asterisks () are attached. A rating by letter followed by two asterisks () will be reduced one step by changing it to the next lower rating letter followed by two asterisks or none. A rating in Arabic figures is treated as if it were a letter rating followed by one asterisk.

In cases where a daily and a weekly both have the same rating, and both are to be cut down according to rule, no new information being received, the weekly is generally cut two steps instead of one; because the tendency of the times is to greatly reduce the circulation of weeklies, people nowadays preferring dailies at the low prices at which they are sold.

OTHER USAGES.

In a town where one paper gives information about its circulation that is definite and satisfactory, and another gives information the accuracy of which no one would be justified in guaranteeing in the form in which it is given, a great deal of consideration is paid to statements about the circulation of rival publications made by the publisher who has furnished definite and satisfactory information about his own; and very little to statements about the circulation of his rivals that are made by the publisher who has failed to make a satisfactory statement about his own.

Publishers who refrain from furnishing any information about circulation are rated by capital letters, the meaning of which is made known by the key. These ratings represent the opinion of the Editor of the Directory at the time of going to press, based upon information obtained from outside or indirect sources, and uninfluenced by any recent authentic information from office of publication.

To be correctly rated in the American Newspaper Directory it is only necessary for a publisher to know what his edition has been for a year preceding the date of his report, be willing to set forth the facts as they were, date the statement and sign it with a pen. Every such report, delivered to the publishers of the Directory before January 16th, 1895, was accepted, believed and the paper rated in accordance. A reward of $25 is at the service of any and every publisher who proves that he handed in such a report, and that it was not believed, accepted and his paper accorded the circulation rating established by the statement.

THE OPPORTUNITY OFFERED TO NEWSPAPER PUBLISHERS BY AN ADVERTISEMENT.

Circulation ratings in the American Newspaper Directory are of necessity based upon issues for a year that is passed. This circulation is known and can be stated with absolute certainty. The interest of the advertiser, however, is centered upon the issues that are put forth now, or will be issued for a year to come. This information, stated upon the authority of a publisher, may be given in an advertisement; and a conspicuous position in the body of the Directory is accorded to such announcements, where they cannot fail to receive the attention of the advertiser who examines the Directory when making plans for an advertising campaign. Such newspaper advertisements make the Directory more interesting and instructive. Without advertisements the publication of the Directory, as well as of most newspapers, would cease to yield a profit to its compilers and conductors.

A PUBLISHER'S OWN STATEMENT, IN HIS OWN WORDS, MAY APPEAR IN THE AMERICAN NEWSPAPER DIRECT-.....ORY FOR 1896.....

Advertisement.—A publisher wishing to insert a short statement of ten lines or less in the column with and following the description of his paper, in the American Newspaper Directory for 1896, may do so at the nominal price of ten dollars, which price will include a free copy of the Directory, to be sent by express as soon as issued. Ten lines will accommodate sixty words, but a smaller number of words will not be accepted for less than the price named. Additional matter may be inserted at ten cents a word. No display or full face type can be used. Payments for statements of this sort will be expected by check or post-office order when proof is submitted. For payment accompanying the original order—$10 for sixty words or less, and 10 cents extra for each word more than sixty—a discount of 10 per cent may be deducted. All statements of the sort indicated will be set in pearl type (of which this is a specimen), and will be preceded by the word "Advertisement." In this way it will be possible for a publisher, on his own responsibility, to convey any information that he deems important to place before advertisers and other users of the Directory, in addition to that given by the Directory itself. Not very long ago an offer of five thousand dollars was made and refused in one case for a notice similar to this now granted for a nominal sum.

The American Newspaper Directory for 1896 will also offer to publishers of newspapers, who furnish portraits, or pictures, illustrating their newspaper buildings, the privilege of having them inserted in the Directory in connection with the description of the paper at the nominal price of ten dollars, which will include a copy of the book sent by express, as soon as issued. The necessary drawing or reproduction can be made from a photograph or other picture, and for this work there will be no extra charge. Such a picture may prove a valuable and attractive advertisement. It would appear that a publisher who owns an office building worthy of illustration, or who desires that his face shall become known to advertisers and others, may wisely avail himself of the privilege here offered. The cut must not exceed one inch in length or in width, and in appearance is subject to the approval of the Editor of the Directory.

Those who take pains to examine the Directory will find specimen pictures of newspaper establishments. When a newspaper owns an office it is well to let the fact be known; for the prosperous papers are those that advertisers are inclined to think most likely to bring satisfactory returns. Publishers desiring both the announcement and the picture, and but one copy of the Directory, will pay $15 for the combined service, and 10 cents a word extra for each word more than sixty. Address all communications to AMERICAN NEWSPAPER DIRECTORY, No. 10 Spruce St., New York.

Mr. H. Z. Osborne, President of the Evening Express Company, of Los Angeles, California, when availing himself of the opportunity offered, wrote as follows: "We inclose you a sixty-word statement of ten lines to insert in the column with and following the description of our paper in the American Newspaper Directory, in accordance with your circular, at ten dollars, with ten per cent off. We inclose our check for nine dollars to pay for the same. We think that this is an excellent plan of advertising, and predict that you will find it very profitable. A statement which bears upon its face the evidence of truth, immediately following the technical description of the paper, is, in our opinion, more valuable than a page advertisement in some other portion of the Directory."

Advertisement.—THE AGE HERALD is the leading daily and the only morning paper in Birmingham. Its circulation is over 6,000 copies daily, nearly 10,000 copies Sunday, and nearly 20,000 weekly. It controls the exclusive franchise of both the Associated and United Press Associations. It has a rich territory exclusively its own, and covers it completely; its daily reaches nearly 200 points in Alabama, Mississippi and Georgia, and its weekly goes regularly to over 1,600 of the 1,750 post-offices in Alabama.

NEWS; every evening except Sunday; democratic; eight pages 15x22; subscription $6; established 1887; Daily News Co., editors and publishers; circulation G ✻.

Advertisement.—The Birmingham NEWS offers to advertisers what it believes to be the best circulation in the State of Alabama. Local advertisers use it to a very much greater extent than any other paper in the State, which is proof of its value among those who know it best. It follows logically that the general advertiser uses it with equal advantage. Its actual average circulation for the last three months of 1894 was, Daily 6,962, notwithstanding the unexampled depression in business of all kinds for the last year.

A drop of ink

Makes millions think.

A. FRANK RICHARDSON.

- AND -

I sell a Barrel of it (500 Pounds) for $20, CASH IN ADVANCE.

Most printers whom I know pay $40 or $45 for the same quantity—quality not quite so good as mine.

WHY DO THEY DO IT?

THE REASON IS PLAIN!

To buy of me for $20 they have to put up the cash.

Buying the same goods, or inferior, of others for $40 or $45 carries with it 4 or 6 months' credit, and an understood right to pay finally with a 60-day note, and possibly to have the note renewed once or twice.

Possibly this IDEA may make, not millions, but dozens, of printers think! I have already had more than six thousand orders, and up to date only a few complaints, and these came from printers who wanted me to send the goods on approval or C. O. D. I didn't do it till I got the money. There has been no complaint about the ink.

One man sent a remittance 10 cents short. I got the 10 cents, however, before he got the ink, and while I waited for the 10 cents he waited for the ink, and my bank account was enriched by his partial remittance.

I don't send any bills or keep any books, but I send the ink, and warrant it to be the best in the world—the best News Ink, mind you—not book or job.

Advertisement.—The NEWS RECORD is an evening paper, with Sunday morning edition. Not quite three years old, it has outstripped its more ancient competitor—now has the largest circulation of any daily in Arkansas, outside of Little Rock. Proof of the pudding in the eating. In this instance the eating is done by local advertisers; this paper carries 50 per cent more local advertising than its two competitors combined, and more foreign advertising than either. Associated Press dispatches, only paper in State using Linotype, three editions daily; has its own artists.

This paper is credited with a higher circulation rating than any other daily issued in Arkansas west of Little Rock, and the accuracy of its rating is guaranteed by the publishers of this directory, who will pay a reward of one hundred dollars to the first person who proves that its issues were not as stated.

Ratings Are High Enough.

An advertiser whose long experience in the advertising field qualifies him to speak as an authority, and makes his views of importance, is Mr. J. F. Place, the advertising manager of the Rochester Lamp Co., of New York City:

"In the twenty-five years I have been connected with the advertising business," said Mr. Place, "I have always held that an advertiser is perfectly right in demanding an accurate statement of the circulation of any paper he is asked to patronize. I should regard an advertiser as a very poor business man if he failed to insist upon the most convincing evidence of the correctness of the circulation claimed by any paper he purchases space in. I am persuaded that the circulation ratings accorded in the American Newspaper Directory are not influenced by any business or personal motive.

"I judge that they follow the same rule in the strict impartiality and truthfulness of their circulation ratings that the managers of a commercial agency do in their credit ratings.

"In choosing between the statement of a publisher and the rating accorded him in the American Newspaper Directory, I naturally accept the latter. I would give the circulation statement of the average publisher the same credence that I attach to the statement of the average merchant, when seeking credit, in respect to his capital, business and standing. In giving a merchant credit, any firm to whom he is unknown would ask for reference, and consult Dun or Bradstreet as to his rating. It is exactly the same in the case of a newspaper publisher who solicits advertising. When his statement is received, the shrewd and experienced advertiser immediately consults the American Newspaper Directory in order to as certain the rating accorded the circulation of his paper therein.

"I believe an advertising expenditure founded on the circulation reports in the Directory would be far more satisfactory in its results than if the publisher's statements only were considered, on the same principle that a mercantile business is more likely to be successful if Dun or Bradstreet's reports are accepted rather than the bare statements furnished by customers.

"I am convinced that the hundred dollars offered by the publishers of the Directory for proof of false reports insures their accuracy. It doubtless has a tendency to cause newspaper proprietors and managers to exercise caution in making their returns, and I judge from the small proportion who avail themselves of this privilege, thereby receiving a guaranteed rating, that they are fairly well satisfied with the estimates made of their papers' circulation. It seems to me that if they were under-rated they would certainly take the necessary trouble to make a true statement, and thus obtain proper rating. As I understand it, all the American Newspaper Directory publishers require is a simple statement of the number of each issue for a year. In justice to the advertisers who purchase the Directory, they could hardly demand less. It would be a reflection on the intelligence of any publisher to suppose he is ignorant of the number of copies of his paper printed. The natural presumption then is that, without a circulation statement from him, the rating accorded by the Directory is satisfactory, and that his paper receives credit for all the circulation it possesses."

When placing your advertising on

The Pacific Coast

be sure to include the

Daily and Weekly

TRIBUNE

OF OAKLAND, CAL.

It brings gold into your coffers. The results have proved without a shadow of doubt that the TRIBUNE is a first-class advertising medium; it will therefore be judicious on the part of advertisers to include the paper in their estimates.

R. Hearst, editor and publisher; circulation, actual average for the past year—daily 72,541, weekly 79,419.

Advertisement.—The EXAMINER has a larger daily circulation than all the other morning papers in San Francisco combined. It not only has the largest circulation of any daily on the Pacific Coast, but it is also larger than that of any other daily issued west of Chicago. The edition of the WEEKLY EXAMINER is greater than that of any other weekly west of St. Louis, and exceeds the total issues of all the weekly editions of the other San Francisco dailies combined. E. Katz, Eastern Agent, 186 World Building, New York City.

The weekly issue of the San Francisco EXAMINER has the highest circulation yet accorded to any paper west of the Missouri. The next largest is given to the daily edition of the EXAMINER. Both of these have credit for 30,000 regular issues more than is accorded to any other daily or weekly in the State of California.

in many a man's way has been his insistence on attending to details which could just as well have been delegated to some one else.

The successful use of other people's brains and special abilities is the secret of all great achievements in business life.

A man can build his own house all by himself, but he will build a better house if he employs architects and masons and carpenters to help him.

In marked contrast with the careless, smudgy-looking ink circular which the Appeal took occasion to comment upon a day or two ago is one just received from Jonson, a New York dealer in printers' inks. It is as bright and pretty as a May-day queen. The cover, which is handsomely designed and printed in four colors, is a tempting inducement to any one to pick up the book and examine its contents, whether they are interested in printing inks or not. The introduction is written in plain, business-like language, the price lists are conveniently arranged under separate headings, and several pages of testimonials at the back are clinchers to the preceding arguments, which have led the reader up to a point where the next step is almost certain to mean an order. Mr. Jonson's catalogue looks well, reads well, and it will sell inks. Mr. Jonson and PRINTERS' INK are welcome to what additional benefit there may be in the statement that it was the clever and convincing advertising done in that favorite little trade journal that first induced the management of the Appeal to place a trial order, and the report now comes from the job and press-rooms that the inks are giving perfect satisfaction. *Editorial in Marysville (Cal.) Printers' Ink Jonson, 8 Spruce St., New York:

DEAR SIR—The 100-lb. keg of ink came to hand last Monday in excellent condition. The ink is very satisfactory and far ahead, in fineness and body, of that which we have been in the habit of paying 25 cents per pound for. A saving of $20 in 100 pounds of superior ink is something which should open the eyes of all printers. Here is the difference:

100 lbs. of Jonson's ink,.....	$5.00	100 lbs. ink from San Francisco.....	$25.00
Freight from New York,.....	3.08	Freight and P. O. Order,.....	3.10
	$8.08		$28.10

A clear gain of $20.02 on 100 lbs. of ink. I am, yours respectfully,

JAS. GEO. CLEVIOR, Foreman New Era.

Send for my beautiful price list in five colors.

—THE—

American Newspaper Directory

Is to the newspaper fraternity and to advertisers what Bradstreet's and Dun's commercial reports are to the mercantile and capitalist interests. The only difference being that the Newspaper Directory quotes circulation, while Bradstreet and Dun quote financial standings. The editor of Scranton (Pa.) Truth recently stated that: The circulation of a newspaper is as important to its successful existence as the circulation of the blood is to the human system. This is why journals that can prove the circulation they claim are always ready to do so, and this is why journals without circulation are so willing to deceive the business public into the belief that they have something which they have not. The subscription price of the American Newspaper Directory is Five Dollars. It is published by Geo. P. Rowell & Co., at No. 10 Spruce St, New York.

"ONE PAPER IN A STATE—THE DENVER REPUBLICAN FOR COLORADO."—Geo. P. Rowell & Co.

Wealth?

"The business of the world to get it."—GLADSTONE.

Gold?

Colorado has it and her future prosperity is assured.

THE DENVER REPUBLICAN

Has the power and prestige, as well as the circulation. Statement filed with Geo. P. Rowell & Co., since January 1st, 1895, shows total output on Daily and Sunday as follows:

Daily, 312 issues, 1894, = 7,481,050

DAILY AVERAGE, 20,496

Sunday, 52 issues, 1894, 1,519,900

SUNDAY AVERAGE, 29,229

☞ In spite of hard times, this shows an increase over 1893. The advertising patronage likewise has increased materially over 1893, showing the unwavering confidence the people have in THE REPUBLICAN as an advertising medium.

MINING RECORD; every evening except Sunday; mining; four pages 15x22; subscription $4; established 1893; W. F. Reinert, editor; Reinert Bros., publishers.

REPUBLICAN; every morning, and WEEKLY, Thursdays; republican; daily and weekly eight pages 19x24, Sunday twenty pages; subscription—daily $6, weekly $2; established 1866; Republican Publishing Co., publishers; circulation, actual average for the past year—daily, 20,496, Sunday 29,229. Weekly H ❋ ❋. See publishers' announcement on opposite page.

Advertisement.—The SUNDAY REPUBLICAN is credited with a higher circulation rating than any other paper issued in Arapahoe County, and the accuracy of its rating is guaranteed by the publishers of this Directory, who will pay a reward of one hundred dollars to the first person who proves that its issues were not as stated.

ROCKY MOUNTAIN NEWS; every evening except Sunday, Sunday morning, and WEEKLY, Wednesdays; independent; daily and weekly eight pages 22x24, Sunday sixteen 19x24; subscription—daily $6, Sunday $2, weekly $1; established 1859; Thomas M. Patterson editor; Rocky Mountain News Printing Co., publishers; circulation, actual average for the past year—daily 23,073, Sunday 28,850. Weekly, smallest edition issued within a year, 4,500.

Advertisement.—THE NEWS was the first paper published in Colorado; established 1859; is the best known, and is more generously quoted from than any other Colorado publication. It is always for the people and absolutely independent in all things for their interest. It is the recognized organ of the entire Rocky Mountain region, making it the newspaper of the fireside, the shop and the mines. It is the only daily paper in Denver that publishes its circulation every day, under oath. Our books are always open for inspection. Our terms are extremely low, and much cheaper, per thousand circulation, than those of any other Western publication.

TIMES; every evening except Sunday, and SUN, Wednesdays; republican; eight pages 19x24; subscription—daily $5, weekly 50 cents; established 1870; The Times-Sun Publishing Co., publishers; circulation—daily D, weekly D.

Advertisement.—Since the consolidation of the TIMES and SUN it has prospered and its advertising patronage has increased. It is one of the leaders in Colorado newspaperdom, and is a paper of Known Circulation exceeding 25,000 daily and 30,000 weekly. No guess work here. Advertising rates reasonable and results pay. A. Frank Richardson, Tribune Building, New York; Chamber of Commerce, Chicago.

THERE ARE NO MARKS ON MY INKS.

I Omit Them to Humor the Pressman.

Old Mr. Montaigne, the Frenchman, used to excuse his practice of borrowing from the classics without giving credit by saying that it delighted his soul to have his critics "rap Plato over the knuckles," when they thought they were cudgeling him.

That idea works tip-top in my business.

When the pressman thinks he is using the ink from the celebrated factory whose contributions have enabled him to build his cottage on the hill, he really don't feel like saying anything even when he is amazed to find that a particular barrel is superior to any he has had before.

One newspaper man writes me :

"I have read a circular of yours received this morning in reference to your 4-cent ink. A great many statements made therein are true to my personal knowledge. I send you herewith a check for $20 for a 500-pound barrel. If it is possible, I desire that the barrel shall come through without any marks indicating what house shipped it."

I have sold two hundred tons of NEWS INK within a year and NO ONE HAS COMPLAINED. I begin to feel confident that I am making an impression on the ink trade. I sell

500-pound Barrel at 4c.,	$20 00
250-pound Barrel at 4½c.,	11 25
100-pound Keg at 5c.,	5 00
50-pound Keg at 5½c.,	2 75
25-pound Keg at 6c.,	1 50

My ink is just as good NEWS INK as can be bought anywhere at 25 cents a pound. It is not a matter of price.

My ink is the best in the world for newspaper work. That is all I claim for it.

To make it certain that I can suit, all that I need is to see a copy of the paper to be printed, to know the kind of press used and the temperature of the press-room ; and, most important of all, a check with the order.

SVENSKA CONNECTICUT POSTEN OCH OESTERNS TRIBUN;

The mote removed, but——

That there are pressmen who are accorded a subsidy from firms supplying them the ink they use is a fact that is acknowledged and is greatly to be deplored. An instance came to light a few days ago in which one of such pressmen in New York deservedly came to grief. A salesman made him a "present" of a bill with a "V" in the corner, and received an order for a small quantity of ink. A few minutes later, the pressman came into the office, where the salesman and proprietor were talking, and walking up to the latter said: "This gentleman has just presented me with $5, which I will turn over to you. I have no use for it." The proprietor turned to the salesman, who looked at the pressman a moment, and said: "Why not turn over the 'fifty' you received last week and which you get every month from the firm supplying you regularly with ink? It would perhaps be as well to make the affair complete while you are about it." The denouement was too much for the pressman, and his embarrassment made a denial of little avail.—Inland Printer for October, 1894.

These things do not happen to the pressman when the office buys ink of me.

I save pressmen's fees, traveling expenses, collection fees, salesmen's salaries, all by my system of collecting

Advertisement.—Waterbury is essentially a Sunday newspaper field, because its forty thousand people are nearly all employed in the great manufacturing concerns, for which the town is noted, and they have little time for daily newspapers. THE SUNDAY GLOBE is lively and interesting. Full of the vim and energy of modern progressive journalism, it has in a short time forged its way to a popular success. It is now the only paper printed on Sunday within a radius of twenty-three miles of Waterbury (all others coming in on the trains), and it is a welcome visitor in that entire circle every Sunday morning. It has carried on an average more than half its entire space in advertising since its first issue, something which cannot be said truthfully of any other Sunday newspaper in all New England.

A Sure Test

One of the shrewdest advertising men in the country once remarked, "show me the paper that carries the largest number of 'Want' and other small ads, and I will show you the best and most widely circulated paper in that town."

The Evening Star

has always enjoyed that distinction in Washington, and the quantity and quality of its circulation proves this assertion.

It has more than double the number of small ads of any other paper in Washington, because it is a "home" paper.

It goes into 82½ per cent of the occupied houses of the city, and it is presumed that the 17½ per cent who do not take it at home either buy it on the street or are too poor to afford a daily paper.

New York Representative:

L. R. HAMERSLY,

49 Potter Building.

DELAWARE.

Philadelphia, Wilmington & Baltimore and Wilmington & Northern Rds. and Delaware r. about 40 m. N. of Dover, the State capital. Engaged in the building of wooden and iron steamboats and cars, and manufacturing machinery, cotton and woolen goods, morocco, powder, carriages, farming implements and various other articles. A port of entry.

EVENING JOURNAL; every evening except Sunday; democratic; four pages 18x24; subscription $3; established 1888; Journal Printing Co., editors and publishers; circulation G.

EVERY EVENING AND COMMERCIAL; every evening except Sunday, and DELAWARE GAZETTE AND STATE JOURNAL, Thursdays; independent-democratic; daily four pages 17x24, weekly eight pages; subscription—daily $5, weekly $1; established—daily 1867, weekly 1784; Every Evening Printing Co., editors and publishers; circulation—daily G ✻ ✻, weekly J ✻ ✻.

Advertisement.—Circulation over 8,000 daily. The value of EVERY EVENING as an advertising medium is equal to that of any other two daily newspapers in Delaware combined. It is a high-class newspaper, sold for one cent, and enjoys the reputation of being one of the best outside a few metropolitan dailies. The people of Delaware show their appreciation by a substantial support.

HERALD AND NATIONAL INTELLIGENCER; every morning; independent; daily four pages 15x22, Sunday eight pages; subscription—daily $3, Sunday $2; established 1800; Alfred B. Iles, editor and publisher; circulation G ✻ ✻. Office 1345 Pennsylvania ave., N. W.

NEWS; every evening except Sunday; independent; eight pages 15x22; subscription $3; established 1892; T. G. Alvord, editor; T. B. Ferguson, publisher; circulation G. Office 929 D street, N. W.

Advertisement.—The limited number of daily papers published in Washington makes it possible to cover this field with a smaller expenditure of money than any other city where the same number of people are to be reached. While the circulation of the NEWS does not exceed 12,000, it has many more readers during the year than other newspapers having the same circulation. Its admirable make-up and condensed form render it more valuable to advertisers than blanket-sheet publications, and the best advertisers of the country have already ascertained this fact and profited by it. Rates are extremely reasonable and are based on actual circulation. For particulars address M. C. Reefer, Eastern Manager, 76 Tribune Building, New York City.

POST; every morning, and WEEKLY, Tuesdays; independent; daily and weekly twelve pages 20x24, Sunday twenty-four pages; subscription—daily $6, weekly 75 cents, Sunday $1.50; established—daily 1877, weekly 1878; Beriah Wilkins editor and publisher; circulation—daily E ✻ ✻, weekly J ✻ ✻. Office Post building, corner of Tenth and D streets and Pennsylvania avenue.

TIMES; every morning; democratic; four pages 18x24, Sundays eight to twelve pages; subscription $4.20; established 1894; The Washington Times Publishing Co., editors and publishers. Office S. W. corner of Pensylvania avenue and 10th streets.

Advertisement.—The Washington TIMES is not accorded a circulation rating in this edition of the American Newspaper Directory because the Directory publishers were not notified at the proper time of its existence; and it is the invariable rule never to rate any publication which has not been described in a previous edition of the book. Otherwise the TIMES would undoubtedly have been rated as exceeding 15,000, its publishers being able and willing to swear to

Par Excellence

As an advertising medium.

ARMY & NAVY REGISTER.

Washington, D. C.

A paper which covers the entire field and is unexcelled as an advertising medium.

The Washington Bee

The oldest and most reliable paper edited by colored men at the Capital of the Nation. It will pay to advertise in this paper. Its opinion on social and political subjects is quoted by the best journals in the country.

There is no better advertising medium for reaching the colored people.

THE COLORED AMERICAN.

A national Negro newspaper of news and opinions. It has a circulation in every State and Territory, and it reaches a class of people not reached by other journals. It stands for the Negro first, last, and all the time. It is independent in politics, and is fearless in its advocacy of the rights of the Negro everywhere.

No matter in what business you are engaged, you can find the greatest amount of practical, valuable and reliable information to be obtained between the covers of any publication in that famous compendium—concise and comprehensive—PRINTERS' INK."

It is not devoted to any particular line, like most trade publications, but meets everybody's wants. It reaches out into all departments of business affairs, and treats them from the "I've-been-there" standpoint, which is a perfectly tenable one for the publishers to take, for they have been studying the problem of advertising for thirty years. They press into service the best talent, and publish a magazine that is not estimated in value by a certain number of dollars and cents.

$2.00 for 52 Numbers.

Every State and Territory

On Saturday, August 11th, I received my first order from the District of Columbia and the State of Louisiana.

On Monday, August 13th, the first order from Idaho came to hand.

On Tuesday, August 14th, the first order from California reached me.

On Wednesday, September 5th, the first order from Utah came.

On Saturday, September 8th, I had an order for the first time from North Dakota.

On Monday, September 17th, the first order from the Indian Territory came in.

On Saturday, November 3d, I had my first order from Wyoming.

On Friday, December 14th, I received my first order from Oregon.

I am now able to proudly assert that I am selling inks to every State and Territory with the sole exception of Alaska.

This is the more marvelous as the only way I have solicited trade has been through an advertisement in PRINTERS' INK.

I employ no agents and keep no books. My terms are CASH with the order.

I have sold two hundred tons of News Ink since I commenced business and no one has complained.

I am supplying over two thousand offices with News and Job Inks. Ten thousand others would buy of me if the owners could overcome the habit of getting trusted for Printing Inks.

I have surely made an impression on the ink trade. I sell

500-pound Barrel at 4c.,	$20 00
250-pound Barrel at 4½c.,	11 25
100-pound Keg at 5c.,	5 00
50-pound Keg at 5½c.,	2 75
25-pound Keg at 6c.,	1 50

My ink is just as good NEWS Ink as can be bought anywhere at 25 cents a pound. It is not a matter of price.

My ink is the best in the world for newspaper work. That is all I claim for it.

To make it certain that I can suit, all that I need is to see a copy of the paper to be printed, to know the kind of press used and the temperature of the press-room, and, most important of all, a CHECK with the order. Address

HAILEY, BLAINE COUNTY, IDAHO,

— BY —

T. E. PICOTTE, Editor and Proprietor.

ITS HOME is in the GREAT WOOD RIVER MINING REGION, and within fifteen miles of the famous Camas Prairie, which is one of the garden spots of the Pacific Northwest.

Its tributary country exceeds in area that of any two New England States, and is rapidly filling up with energetic people who, coming with few supplies, need all the tools, implements and adjuncts of the most progressive civilization.

Miners are paid a minimum of $3 per day's work of eight hours, and so-called "common" laborers the same. A wood-sawyer or chopper who does not earn $4 per day scarcely considers that he has made wages. Farm hands are not always obtainable at $50 per month and "found."

Residents therefore earn much more than they would elsewhere in the same occupations, and their aggregate wealth is probably larger than that of an Eastern population twenty times as numerous.

The late Jay Gould spent his last summers on earth here. His family and friends occupied eight palace cars. H. K. Thurber, the New York merchant prince, and his family; United States Senator Thurston and his family, and hundreds of other prominent persons, spend their summers angling for trout in our streams, hunting for bear or other game in our mountains and freshening their energies. This adds to the purchasing power of the community in no small degree.

READ what Printers' Ink has to say:

THIS OUGHT TO CONVINCE

BELLEVILLER POST AND ZEITUNG—Belleville, a German paper. Its daily edition is one of the (only seventeen) daily papers in Illinois, and its weekly edition one of the (only eighty-one) weekly papers in the State, and the only paper in St. Clair County, the exact accuracy of whose circulation ratings the American Newspaper Directory guarantees by a $100 forfeit. Its record shows a regular issue for the past year of 516 copies daily and 2,323 copies weekly; and since the consolidation (Jan. 17, 1893) 888 copies daily and 3,744 copies weekly.—Printers' Ink.

We have also recently added the subscription lists of the SUED ILLINOIS ZEITUNG to the POST AND ZEITUNG mail list, which has given us another decided increase.

THE POST AND ZEITUNG

Circulates largely among the farmers of Southern Illinois and St. Clair County, which is the fourth largest and one of the wealthiest counties in the State. Its inhabitants are a very industrious class of people, mostly Germans, whom every advertiser is anxious to reach.

The Chicago Dispatch Is a Winner!

This fact never has been denied. It is admitted and acknowledged by the best journalistic authority in this country.

It has Broken all Records.

All journalistic achievements in the way of growth and influence have been surpassed by Chicago's youngest daily.

Why Does this Paper Succeed?

This is a question that can be answered very easily and in such a manner as to leave no uncertainty.

It is the Paper of the People.

From the day of its first issue it has been a constant advocate of the people's interests and has never wavered or retreated.

Correct Principles are Behind it.

It prints all the news all the time. It is Independent, Aggressive, Enterprising, Honest, Fearless and Wideawake.

You can see this Paper Grow.

Examine THE CHICAGO DISPATCH and compare it with its local contemporaries. It is ahead in news, in circulation, and in business support.

President Beals' Opinion.

A publisher and purveyor of advertising space, whose opinions of the American Newspaper Directory are worthy of publicity, is Mr. James H. Beals, Jr., the President of the New York Newspaper Union. Mr. Beals may be regarded as representing the local country weekly. Nearly all the 1,400 publishers who procure their partly printed sheets ("patent insides") from Mr. Beals' ready-print establishment are rated in the Directory, and hence a large proportion of its contents is studied by him with considerable interest.

"The fact that I keep no other Newspaper Directory in my office," said Mr. Beals, "is a pretty fair indication of the value I set upon it. It is undoubtedly the best work of that character published, and I can offer no suggestion as to its improvement because I consider it already as near perfection as money and labor can make it. I am satisfied that the reports printed in the Directory concerning the circulations of the more important papers are tolerably correct. If errors do exist, I think they are rather favorable than otherwise to the publisher. The mistakes in the book which have come to my notice are in the ratings accorded country publications. I know the circulation of the papers partly printed by my company just as well as the publishers do. A newspaper owner does not order more copies of his paper printed than he is certain of selling. If we are in the habit of supplying him sufficient papers for a thousand copies and he is accorded a circulation in the Directory of 800, we know an injustice has been done him. I have not the least suspicion that Geo. P. Rowell & Co. desire to do an injustice to any one. I feel sure that no improper motives guide them in the ratings they accord. I do not deny that a newspaper publisher can avoid an under-rating by making a return of the number of copies of his paper printed. A certain number of them do so, but I fear their reports are not always correct. Every now and then some customer of ours will complain that a rival publisher has sent in a report of that character and been given a rating in the Directory to which he was not entitled. I believe that $100 reward offered for evidence of false reports has a deterrent influence on publishers disposed to make untruthful returns. This is especially the case with those papers wholly or in part printed in a different office from the one they are published in.

"It is not the same, however, in the case of papers printed in the office of the publisher by his own employees. If he is in the habit of making false reports he will be careful not to engage any one whom he has reason to suspect would betray him.

"I recognize the right of an advertiser to know the exact circulation of every medium he is asked to give business to. I would never think of refusing information of that nature to any advertiser who contemplates using the list of papers I represent. I believe an advertiser who allows himself to be controlled in his selection of mediums by the ratings in the Directory is not liable to go far astray. But I also believe he should give a publisher a hearing before refusing to pay more for space in his paper than the circulation ratings in the Directory show it to be worth."

THE GRAPHIC, CHICAGO,

S. W. Cor. Fifth Ave. and Washington St.

—:oo:—

THE GRAPHIC believes in Protection for American Industries and Reciprocity.

—o—

We desire to call your attention to the reorganization of THE GRAPHIC Illustrated Weekly, Chicago. Having enlarged its capital, it is now in first-class financial condition, and in the future we intend to make THE GRAPHIC better than ever—and increase its 60,000 circulation twofold. You no doubt are aware that for the last ten years it has been considered one of the best weekly family illustrated newspapers in America—ranking and often excelling Harper's—as THE GRAPHIC's World's Fair and other editions convinced the world at large. Nothing in THE GRAPHIC columns, either reading matter or advertisements, is allowed but that which is pure and unobjectionable, as our subscriptions are principally from families, and THE GRAPHIC's aim has always been, and always will be, to continue to be a family illustrated newspaper. We hope old and new patrons will place THE GRAPHIC on their 1895 list for advertisements and subscriptions.

We can place any amount of advertising whenever you say, in the position you want, in any or all of the papers listed in this Directory, at a price for the whole order far below any you can get for yourself, and below that which any other agency can get for you. We can do it because we know how. It has taken us 30 years to find out.

We've been 30 years preparing ourselves for your work.

The Best Medium

FOR REACHING THE FAMILIES OF THE

SKILLED MECHANICS OF AMERICA

IS THE

Eight-Hour Herald

THE CHICAGO EVENING POST, JULY 25, 1894.

WILLIAM C. HOLLISTER, LABOR'S CHAMPION AND ADVISER.

William C. Hollister, adviser of labor, able business-man and successful publisher, wields a powerful influence in the affairs of the labor organizations of this city. His standing with the trade unions is unique, and he is one of the few men who have cast their lot with the labor movement and retained for any length of time the confidence of the working classes. Through the Eight-Hour Herald, which is controlled by him, he has become known as a fearless though temperate and conservative champion of the best interests of organized labor. At the same time Mr. Hollister is a recognized counselor of the unions in all matters affecting their prosperity, their treasurer in public movements, the custodian of their state secrets and the official printer of many of their publications. They have absolute confidence in him, and to this fact alone is due his success as a business-man and as a counselor of labor. Many men have sought influence and fortune in the same field and have failed utterly. Others have been absolutely ruined by the venture, and those who have met with short-lived success have almost invariably fallen with the tide of labor agitation. With Mr. Hollister, however, it has been different. He has undoubtedly got very close to the great masses of people who are reached through his paper. This fact is all the more remarkable when it is known that he is still a very young man. He was born in Oshkosh, Wis., in 1863, and is not yet thirty years of age. Very early in life he realized all the advantages to be gained by organization and assisted in organizing a typographical union at Oshkosh, the second of the kind in the state. Previous to that event he had learned the printing trade and had developed remarkable aptitude for the calling. Shortly after the organization of the Typographical Union at Oshkosh he removed to this city. In 1886 he perceived the possibility of success for a printing-house devoted exclusively to the work of organized labor, and in company with his brother started the firm of which he is now the senior member. Always an ardent advocate of the eight-hour movement, the eight-hour day with the ten-hour wage schedule has prevailed in the office and remarkable success has met the efforts of the publisher. Mr. Hollister has a pleasant home on the North Side. He was married in 1881 and has four children, three boys and a girl. In politics he is a democrat, except when there is a bona-fide labor-ticket in the field. While Mr. Hollister's greatest interest lies with the labor organizations, he is also a prominent member of the masonic and forester fraternities. He is the treasurer of the Phœnix Federal Labor Union and an honorary member of the Chicago Typographical Union. Recently the publisher has devoted much of his time to the work of the Civic Federation, of which he is a member, and has identified himself closely with its interests.

THAT IS THE KIND YOU WANT;
THAT IS THE KIND WE DO;
THAT IS THE KIND THAT PAYS.

While we do not claim to excel in all kinds of first-class printing (though we flatter ourselves that we can hold our own),

WE DO CLAIM that we have unsurpassed facilities for getting up attractive advertisements.

I see it Wherever I go!

Speaking of the American Newspaper Directory, Mr. S. C. Beckwith, the most successful of the New York special agents, says:

"I see it wherever I go.

"Prominent advertisers are constantly consulting it.

"When I approach an advertiser for a paper that I represent, the first thing he does is to spring Rowell on me.

"He hunts up the city and the paper; looks at the rating the Directory gives and then is ready to listen to me; but not till then.

"The new plan that permits placing an advertisement where an advertiser's eye may see it, at the very time when he is consulting the Directory for the purpose of deciding what papers to use in a specified State or city, pleases me.

"It has led me to urge all of my papers strongly to use advertising space in the Directory.

"An advertisement in such a position cannot be skipped.

"The advertiser sees the advertisement at just the moment when he is most interested in finding out about the particular paper.

"If the advertisement is truthful and its statements well expressed, it cannot fail to do good.

"A book rendering such a service to the better class of newspapers deserves to be patronized and protected, aided and encouraged."

We desire to call the attention of publishers to the printing of the half-tone on the first page, something seldom attempted in newspapers. The results are as perfect as the soft print paper will admit of. But the most remarkable feature of it is that it was printed with 4c ink purchased of Wm. Johnston, 10 Spruce street, New York, who has revolutionized the ink business. His 4c ink gives us better satisfaction than the 22c ink we used previously, and furthermore this testimonial is purely voluntary.

Mr. A. J. Schaeffer, proprietor of the Marshall County Democrat, published at Lacon, Illinois, sends me a recent copy of his paper containing a half-tone cut printed with the ink that I sell at four cents a pound when ordered in 500-lb. barrels, and paid for in advance. Mr. Schaeffer or his assistant, Mr. W. B. Powell, has been good enough to favor me with a short editorial notice, which I print above. I must say that when I saw the work he had done with my four-cent ink I was amazed. I would not have thought of claiming so much for the ink as he has gotten out of it. I wish that people who think of buying ink of me, and hesitate because they fear that the quality will not be up to the standard, would send ten cents in stamps, or thereabouts, to the Marshall County Democrat, of Lacon Ill., and obtain a copy of the very paper containing the half-tone here referred to. To save time, so as to be able to strike when the iron is hot, I would recommend all such persons to write to me by the same mail, inclosing six cents in stamps, for my beautiful price list, printed in five colors, with a living picture on the outside cover. Address,

The 3 Transcripts.

DAILY. | SUNDAY. | WEEKLY.

PEORIA, ILLINOIS.

THE TRANSCRIPTS have been regular visitors to the HOMES of PEORIA and CENTRAL ILLINOIS

FOR FORTY YEARS.

In 1855, when THE TRANSCRIPT was established, the city was little more than a village. Now, together with its suburban villages,

PEORIA HAS 60,000 PEOPLE.

All these people know and believe in THE DAILY TRANSCRIPT.

THE SUNDAY MORNING TRANSCRIPT, besides having all the features of the regular daily editions, is the Leading Society Newspaper of the city.

THE WEEKLY TRANSCRIPT goes to more homes in the surrounding country and villages than any other Peoria paper.

PEORIA

Is in the center of an agricultural garden spot.
Is in the heart of the Illinois coal fields.
Is the point to which eleven railroad lines converge.
Is on the navigable portion of the Illinois River.

THE TRANSCRIPT CO., Publishers, Peoria, Illinois.

The Illinois Farmer.

. . . SEMI-MONTHLY. . .

PEORIA, ILLINOIS.

Published specifically in the Interests of the Farmers of Illinois, but favored with the patronage of many from other States.

THE ILLINOIS FARMER succeeded to the subscription list of THE INLAND FARMER, originally established as the GRANGE NEWS in 1876.

The lists of several other publications have also been merged into it, and THE ILLINOIS FARMER is now practically a consolidation of

THE INLAND FARMER, East St. Louis, Ill.
THE ILLINOIS HORSEMAN, Joliet, Ill.
THE AMERICAN HORSEMAN AND FARMER, Detroit, Mich.
THE MARK FIELD, Peoria, Ill.

CIRCULATION, AFTER CONSOLIDATION, 12,000.

Illinois is an Empire, and her rulers are the tillers of the soil. You can be presented and represented at Court through THE ILLINOIS FARMER, Peoria, Illinois.

Advertisement.—Some papers reach only part of the community. Several such reach part of the community several times. Only the paper everybody reads reaches all classes at once. The CALL is such a paper, and has a large clientage, who take no other, and whom, therefore, all others combined would reach but little more to reach everybody than to miss half of 'em. Thirty years of success in the same community tells its own story. Have customers who haven't been out of the paper for twenty-five years. Why? Because their advertisement pays them. Try us. Correspondence solicited. Lafayette is one of the most prosperous cities in the State and the CALL is its most prosperous and influential paper. The daily covers a circulation of over 3,500, while the weekly reaches a happy constituency of over 3,800. Send for rates and full particulars to Frank S. THE MORNING

RICHMOND

Independent-Telegram,

RICHMOND, IND.

The Morning INDEPENDENT-TELEGRAM is the result of the consolidation, on January 1st, 1895, of the Daily INDEPENDENT (established 1869) and the Daily TELEGRAM (established 1884), and is the only morning daily paper published in Eastern Indiana. It is the official paper of the city and county, and is without a doubt one of the strongest daily papers, as well as one of the best advertising mediums in the State. If you want to reach the intelligent "Hoosier" of Richmond and surrounding towns who has the money to buy what he wants you will use this paper.

Weekly Independent-Telegram.

The Weekly INDEPENDENT-TELEGRAM is the result of the consolidation, on January 1st, 1895, of the Weekly TELEGRAM (established 1860) and the Weekly INDEPENDENT (established 1866), and its growth and development have been co-equal with that of the wonderfully progressive section in which it has a circulation away beyond that of any of its contemporaries. It is a splendid weekly paper, having a constituency that advertisers would do well to become acquainted with.

The Sunday Telegram.

The Richmond SUNDAY TELEGRAM has a larger circulation than all the other Richmond Sunday papers combined, and is recognized by all who have tested it as being an advertising medium of great value.

An inquiry for advertising rates for either or all of the above trio of "Hoosier" papers will demonstrate that you cannot afford not to use them in an advertising way.

Advertisement.—The Davenport Daily LEADER is Davenport's largest, brightest and best paper. It is a 7-column quarto, the only 8-page paper published in the city and vicinity. Being an evening paper with United Press reports up to 4 P. M., and with a Sunday morning issue, all delivered for 10 cents a week, it has the largest circulation of any daily in Davenport and Scott County, using the only web perfecting press with stereotype outfit on the line between Chicago and Des Moines. It is the only daily which gives special attention to local society events, to which it devotes a whole page of every Sunday LEADER. It is, therefore, highly prized by the ladies. That the LEADER is the best advertising medium of the locality is shown by the fact that it carries more than twice as much of the home advertising as any other Davenport paper does. Foreign advertisers cannot well cover Iowa without including the LEADER. Rates furnished upon application.

THE ENGLISH OF IT,

From the Decorah Posten, Decorah, Iowa. Issue of June 5th, 1894.

The American Newspaper Directory, udgivet i 10 Spruce St., New York City, har oprettet en Afdeling i sin '94 Udgave, som vil anbefale sig selv til baade Averterende og Udgivere. Alle Advertising Directories, Haand- og Aarbøger, sælger Spalterum til en Pris, som, hvis det antoges af Udgiveren ved Salget af hans Spalterum, vilde bringe ham en Masse Penge, men det af Directories saaledes solgte Spalterum er hidtil bleven betalt med Avertissementer af den Udgiver, som kjøbte Spalterummet i the directory.

Geo. P. Rowell & Co. sælger i deres '94 Udgave Spalterum kun for Kontant, og som Følge deraf er denne Udgave i Omfang ikke stort større end Halvdelen af Udgaven for det foregaaende Aar. Avertissementsiderne indeholder derimod saa meget bedre Oplysning for dem, der søger den. De er ikke opfyldt med Tilbud fra Udgivere, hvis Spalterum ikke har nogen Værdi, og som vil sælge det for hvadsomhelst. De Averterende, som findes i denne Udgave af the directory, er de, som virkelig har gode Blade, og som har Raad til at avertere dem. Saadanne Bladudgivere kan langt bedre betale Kontant end med Spalterum. Deres Spalterum repræsenterer Penge, og naar de ikke faar mere for det end en Mand, hvis Spalterum ikke repræsenterer Penge, kommer de simpelthen ind mellem en Masse Blade, saa deres Betydning falder bort og Pengene har de intet Udbytte af.

Vi har aldrig tidligere været tilfreds med Resultatet af at avertere i American Newspaper Directory eller nogen anden Newspaper Directory, men iaar tog vi en halv Side i American Newspaper Directory, betalte Kontant for den og forventer, at det vil vise sig at være det bedste Advertising Investment, vi nogensinde har gjort.

The American Newspaper Directory, published at 10 Spruce street, New York City, has instituted a departure in its '94 edition that will commend itself to both advertisers and publishers. All advertising directories, manuals and year books sell space at a rate which, were it adopted by the publisher in selling his space, would make him a lot of money, but the space so sold by directories has heretofore been paid for in advertising space furnished by the publisher who bought the space in the directory.

Geo. P. Rowell & Co., in their '94 edition, sell space for cash and cash only, and as a result that edition is not much more than one-half the size of the edition of the preceding year. The advertising pages really convey intelligent information to those who seek for it. They are not filled up with the flauntings of publishers whose space has no value and who will trade it for anything. The advertisers appearing in this issue of the Directory are those who really have good papers and who can afford to advertise them. Such publishers can much better pay cash than space. Their space represents money, and when they get no more for it than does the man whose space does not represent money they are simply crowded in with such a lot of papers that their identity cannot be determined and they practically pay coin of the realm for that which avails them nothing and for which fake publishers practically pay nothing.

We have never been satisfied heretofore with the investments which were the result of buying space in the American Newspaper Directory or any other newspaper directory, but this year we took a half a page in the American Newspaper Directory, paid cash for it, and think that it will prove one of the best advertising investments that we have ever made.

Competent to Express an Opinion.

Speaking of the American Newspaper Directory, Mr. S. C. Beckwith, the most successful of the New York special agents, says:

"I see it wherever I go.

"Prominent advertisers are constantly consulting it.

"When I approach an advertiser for a paper that I represent, the first thing he does is to spring Rowell on me.

"He hunts up the city and the paper; looks at the rating the Directory gives and then is ready to listen to me; but not till then.

"The new plan that permits placing an advertisement where an advertiser's eye may see it, at the very time when he is consulting the Directory for the purpose of deciding what papers to use in a specified State or city, pleases me.

"It has led me to urge all of my papers strongly to use advertising space in the Directory for 1894.

"An advertisement in such a position cannot be skipped.

"The advertiser sees the advertisement at just the moment when he is most interested in finding out about the particular paper.

"If the advertisement is truthful and its statements well expressed, it cannot fail to do good.

"I have already placed orders for five of my papers, four being for a full page each, and one for a quarter of a page, and every one is in the best position.

"Before the book goes to press I hope to have all of my papers represented in it, and I realize that the sooner the order is in the freer my choice of position will be.

"It was my personal knowledge and experience of the power of the book to be of service to me that has induced me to obtain these orders. I have not been asked to do so. No solicitor has approached me.

"This book has practically obliterated the idea that a newspaper directory is a blackmailing affair. It treats friends and foes all alike; and every publisher may have his circulation stated exactly as it is, if he knows himself and will tell.

"A book rendering such a service to the better class of newspapers deserves to be patronized and protected, aided and encouraged."

WAYS THAT PAY.

Every way that bright business men have discovered for catching the public eye and drawing new patronage is freely considered in Printers' Ink. It believes in every kind of advertising that pays, and is brimful of meaty suggestions for live merchants.

The oldest and ablest advertisers write for its columns, and practically all the leading advertisers in the country subscribe to it. Do you? Can you imagine a bigger two-dollars' worth than a year's subscription?

"I confess to have culled many bright ideas from its columns,"—RALPH TILTON, Advertising Manager, Carson, Pirie, Scott & Co., Chicago.

Wolstan Dixey, World Building, New York.

Advertisement.—As an advertising medium for those who have things to sell to a thrifty, generous town and country constituency, it is unsurpassed in the State. It never forces itself upon the public by cheap premium offers or rumous deductions from its rates, but it is voluntarily subscribed to and paid for by people who have the means to buy generously and to pay for what they get. Its circulation is 1,925, and is exceeded by only four other county papers in the State, and it is a healthy circulation that has grown out of a successful newspaper history of a decade under one management. It is the cleanest, brightest, most substantial weekly in Central Kentucky.

HARTFORD, c. h., Ohio Co., 740† pop., on Rough creek, 5 m. N. of Beaver Dam, the nearest station on Chesapeake, Ohio & Southwestern Rd. Agricultural and mining section.

HERALD; Wednesdays; democratic; four pages 20x26; subscription $1.25; established 1874; B. D. Ringo, editor; F. L. Felix, publisher; circulation, smallest edition issued within a year, 1,500.

Advertisement.—The HERALD is a live, up-to-date and splendidly printed journal; all home print. Its semi-literary character gives it a large general circulation. It is a follower of Jefferson in politics, but independent in its course. It circulates among a class of people who take it and pay for it—a class that the advertiser wants to talk to.

REPUBLICAN; Fridays; republican; four pages 19x27; subscription $1.25; established 1888; J. B. Rogers, editor; Sam A. Anderson, publisher; circulation, actual average for the past year, 1,699.

LEXINGTON, c. h., Fayette Co., 21,567† pop., on Cincinnati, New Orleans & Texas Pacific, Louisville & Nashville, Chesapeake & Ohio, Louisville Southern and Kentucky Union Rds. Considerable manufacturing is carried on. Center of the "Blue-Grass" region. A pre-eminent horse market.

LEADER; every evening except Sunday, Sunday morning, and WEEKLY, Thursdays; republican; eight pages 16x22, Sunday twelve pages; subscription—daily $6, Sunday $1.50 weekly $1; established 1888; Sam J. Roberts, editor; Leader Printing Co., publishers; circ'n, actual average for the past year—daily 2,467, Sunday 2,791, weekly 1,100.

Advertisement.—THE LEADER is the official newspaper of Lexington, appointed by a democratic mayor in compliance with the provision of the new city charter giving that distinction to the paper proving the "largest bona fide circulation." It is the only Lexington newspaper published every day in the year; the only one that makes a detailed statement of its actual circulation for every issue; the only one printed on a perfecting press, and the only one occupying a building erected for its special use. Its press-room and circulation records are open to the world. Every edition of THE LEADER has a larger circulation than the corresponding edition of any other Lexington newspaper. THE LEADER reports actual circulation for every issue in the year as the basis of its rating, and is the only Lexington newspaper whose circulation is guaranteed by the publishers of the American Newspaper Directory.

PRESS-TRANSCRIPT; every morning except Monday, and PRESS AND FARMER AND STOCKMAN, Wednesdays; democratic; eight pages 15x22; subscription—daily $6, Sunday $2, weekly $2; established—Press 1870, Transcript 1878; The Lexington Publishing Co., editors and publishers; circulation, smallest edition issued within a year—daily 3,300, weekly 5,000.

Advertisement.—THE PRESS-TRANSCRIPT is the official newspaper of Lexington, appointed by the Mayor in compliance with the new charter requiring him to select as the official paper the one proving the "largest bona fide circulation," and any claim to this distinction by any other newspaper is false, which can be proved by investigation. THE PRESS TRANSCRIPT was the only paper to furnish the information called for by the Mayor. It keeps a daily record of its circulation and its books are open to the world. It is also the official newspaper of Fayette County. It is the only morning daily in Central Kentucky, the only Democratic daily in an overwhelmingly Democratic section, and the only newspaper that thoroughly covers the rich and populous Blue Grass region. These facts should be remembered by advertisers. Steve W. Floyd, Manager Eastern office, 161 Times Building, New York.

Advertisement.—The daily and Sunday has four times the largest morning Known Circulation of any paper in the city; it circulates widely and well; covers not only the city, but near-by towns and villages. The weekly edition has the largest known circulation of any paper in the South-west, and, combined with the daily and Sunday, proves the very best medium for getting the Southwestern trade. A. Frank Richardson, Tribune Building, New York; Chamber of Commerce, Chicago.

EVENING POST; every evening except Sunday; independent-democratic; eight pages 20x24; subscription $5; established 1870; Richard W. Knott, editor; The Evening Post Co., publishers; circulation F.

Advertisement.—The Post is the kind of paper that pays advertisers. Its career of over 25 years has been one of steady and conservative growth. It is taken at the homes of nearly every white family in Louisville, and carries nearly twice the local and foreign advertising of any other Louisville daily. It is a remarkable fact that the local advertiser who has used the Post has ever failed in business, which can be said of no other daily paper in that city. Its guaranteed circulation is over 18,000. Eastern office, 26 College Place, N. Y. City, S. S. Vreeland, Mgr.

TIMES; every evening except Sunday; democratic; eight pages 20x24; subscription $5; established 1884; Times Co., editors and publishers; circulation C.

Advertisement.—This paper has the largest circulation accorded to any daily in Kentucky. Its circulation is local and can be found in most every house and home in Louisville. Louisville is well known because of its culture, refinement and the important commercial interests centered in it. The Times is a paper of Known Circulation—exceeding 30,000—and advertisers profit from its advertising. A. Frank Richardson, Tribune Building, N. Y.: Chamber of Commerce, Chicago.

THE $100 REWARD.

When any one questions the accuracy of a guaranteed circulation rating in the American Newspaper Directory, and makes an attempt to collect the $100 reward offered in a case where the Directory has been imposed upon by an untruthful report, it becomes requisite, in order to obtain the reward, to furnish such proof as would be considered satisfactory by a Grand Jury or in a court of law when no defense is set up. Persons intending to enter a claim for the reward will do well to take the advice of a local attorney or a business man having experience in such matters. The publishers of the Directory pay the reward cheerfully when a case is made out, but it is not a part of their duty to aid in proving a publisher in the wrong, who, so far as they know, and would be glad to believe, may be absolutely right.

A SAFE GUIDE

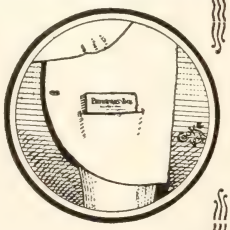
No man knows all there is to know about advertising. The subject is too profound, too complex, too perplexing, for any single person, or for any dozen persons for that matter. The path to success in advertising is full of dangerous places. All business men would do well to engage a safe guide to conduct them past the danger spots—to tell them what to do and what to avoid doing.

Printers' Ink

is a weekly journal for advertisers, published at 10 Spruce street, New York. It is a magazine of ideas, of suggestions, of advice. Advertisers the world over read it and write for it. It is the advertising authority of America—probably of the globe. Business men will find it a safe guide. To secure its services as guide costs $2 a year. A sample copy costs nothing.

Bert M. Moses, P. O. Box 283, Brooklyn, N. Y.

Not The Least



AMONG the excellencies of PRINTERS' INK, the weekly journal of advertising ideas, is its convenient size. Busy men can, in spare moments, gain from it many suggestions to aid them in making their business announcements most effective.

FROM

500 to 5,000 Pounds

AT A CLIP.

On June 13th, 1894, I received an order for a sample barrel of my News Ink from Mr. W. H. Gannett, Publisher of "Comfort," Augusta, Me.

I shipped the same the following day and heard nothing further for some time.

August 21st I received a second order. It was for a ton that time.

On September 21st I received my third order amounting to a ton and a quarter.

My fourth order reached me on December 15th and called for two and a half tons or five thousand pounds.

This is the largest order I have yet received from any one and it is a "Comfort" to know that my ink is giving such good satisfaction everywhere.

☞ Almost every order I receive calls for

"SAME AS WE HAD BEFORE."

The large New York publishing house of George Munro's Sons has used more than five tons (10,000 pounds) of my ink.

Reader! Do you not feel a burning desire to send me a CHECK for $20 and get a sample 500-pound barrel?

Without the CHECK I cannot send it. Address

TWO DOLLARS FOR AN IDEA

Isn't much, providing the "idea" is of any benefit to you.

PRINTERS' INK, that crisp journal for advertisers, is brimful of ideas that cannot fail to prove of incalculable value to advertisers, fifty-two times a year for $2.

If you would be a successful advertiser, you cannot afford to be without "The Little Schoolmaster."

Send to PRINTERS' INK, 10 Spruce St., New York, and get sample copy.

Fred D. James, Leon, Iowa.

After December 31st, 1895, the subscription price will be increased to $5.00 a year.

has the largest circulation rating accorded to any daily in Maryland, and the accuracy of its circulation rating is guaranteed by the publishers of this Directory, who will pay one hundred dollars to the first person who proves that its issues were not as stated.

This paper is credited with a higher circulation rating than any other Sunday issued in Baltimore City, and the accuracy of its rating is guaranteed by the publishers of this Directory, who will pay a reward of one hundred dollars to the first person who proves that its issues were not as stated.

Advertisement.—Population of Baltimore, 500,000. Opportunities for advertisers unexcelled. Circulation of Baltimore WORLD exceeding 22,500 daily. THE WORLD is the recognized paper of the masses. It is the only one-cent evening paper, and during the past year its increase of circulation has been nearly equal to the entire circulation of two of Baltimore's dailies. Although the youngest paper, THE WORLD has the second largest daily and twice the largest evening circulation in the city today. It offers extraordinary advantages to advertisers, and it is still forging ahead, being generally recognized as the coming paper of Baltimore. THE WORLD devotes only a limited amount of space to advertising, thereby considerably enhancing its value to advertisers. Rates and full particulars may be had on application to the home office, or the New York office, 76 Tribune Building.

Bronze Blue.

With the exception of black, Bronze Blue is used more than any other ink manufactured. It is a clean-working ink and dries with a bronzy appearance, just as its name designates. Every customer of mine who has used my Bronze Blue highly commends it and will not use any other. Here are some testimonials about it:

A short time ago I sent you a small order, and wondered how you could send at the prices you quoted. I have always paid from three to five times as much and got no better, and in the case of your Bronze Blue not as good inks.
FRED GRAY, Publisher Mail, Plymouth, Mich.

The extra fine Bronze Blue ordered of you a few days ago is equal to any $2.00 ink I ever used. ENTERPRISE, Poultney, Vt.

Send us fifteen pounds of your Fine Bronze Blue ink, exactly the same as last. Your inks give good satisfaction. NATIONAL ENVELOPE CO., Milwaukee, Wis.

Your ink has been very satisfactory. C. I. JOHNSON & CO., Detroit, Mich.

We don't hesitate to say your ink is the best we have ever used. Have tried all the different makes and without exception it worked clearer and with less trouble than the best we ever handled previously. We have only one cause for complaint. Why weren't you born twenty-five years earlier? You are right when you say your ink is the best in the world. One does not have to be an ink manufacturer to print with it.
FREEMAN, Waukesha, Wis.

Your inks received and we find they suit us better than anything we have found during our thirty years in business. PIERCE PRINTING CO., Garretsville, Ohio.

I have two grades of Bronze Blue. My regular Fine Bronze Blue I sell at one dollar a pound, or twenty-five cents a quarter-pound can. I have a cheaper Bronze Blue that I sell in three-pound cans for one dollar a can. I will match any Bronze Blue in the world for a dollar a pound.

Send for my beautiful price list. Address

I see it Wherever I go!

Speaking of the American Newspaper Directory, Mr. S. C. Beckwith, the most successful of the New York special agents, says:

"I see it wherever I go.

"Prominent advertisers are constantly consulting it.

"When I approach an advertiser for a paper that I represent, the first thing he does is to spring Rowell on me.

"He hunts up the city and the paper; looks at the rating the Directory gives and then is ready to listen to me; but not till then.

"The new plan that permits placing an advertisement where an advertiser's eye may see it, at the very time when he is consulting the Directory for the purpose of deciding what papers to use in a specified State or city, pleases me.

"It has led me to urge all of my papers strongly to use advertising space in the Directory.

"An advertisement in such a position cannot be skipped.

"The advertiser sees the advertisement at just the moment when he is most interested in finding out about the particular paper.

"If the advertisement is truthful and its statements well expressed, it cannot fail to do good.

"A book rendering such a service to the better class of newspapers deserves to be patronized and protected, aided and encouraged."

EVERY MAN TO HIS TRADE.

The successful tradesman thrives on advertising. He should not be expected to know how to buy and sell goods, and make ads equally well. Therefore he employs an ad-maker.

Printers' Ink
Is An Ad-Maker

On a large scale. It embraces all reputable trades. Merchants will do well to subscribe for it, for aid in their advertising business.

It is full of bright, catchy ads, and inspires new ideas in the field of advertising—ideas from the brains of experienced and successful ad-makers. You consult medical works for authority on medicine, law-books for authority on law—why not an Advertising Journal for authority on advertising? Such consultation costs you nothing, provided you send for a sample copy. It will result in your subscription for a year. Only $2.00 a year for advice beyond value.

"We are delighted with your Blue Job inks. We paralyzed an ink drummer by springing your prices on him." LANDON PRINTING CO., Columbus, Ohio.

"DEAR SIR—It may interest you to know our experience with job inks. We had a certain job which required considerable BLUE ink of a particular shade. We applied to a leading Boston firm for their bottom price for the ink required. They replied that the list price was three dollars a pound, but as we were good customers, and offered spot cash, they would make us a bed-rock, net price of two dollars a pound. We bought one pound of their ink at two dollars, sent you a sample, and obtained from you, at one dollar a pound, an ink which matched it, as near as we could see, in every particular. It certainly worked smoothly, matched perfectly, and we cannot tell by looking at two sheets which was done with the two-dollar ink and which with the one dollar—and we do not believe that the ink manufacturer can. We are glad to give you this unsolicited testimonial, because be believe in praising a good thing when we see it. We are using the four-cent ink obtained from you in place of ink which we had been paying twenty cents for. Respectfully yours," MASCOT PUBLISHING COMPANY, Boston, Mass.

"The Blue ink you sent me last was as good as any $3 ink I ever used. No more high-riced inks for yours truly." E. E. BROWNELL, Schenevus, N. Y.

The American Newspaper Directory.

A PENNSYLVANIA OPINION:

The following extract from the leading editorial in the Chester, Pa., Times, of Thursday, September 27th, 1894, is of general interest at this time:

Years ago newspapers did not state their circulation, and the usefulness of the various journals to their patrons was clouded in mystery. Of late years, however, there has been a tendency toward frankness and honesty in the matter of newspaper circulation, although many publishers, especially those whose papers compare unfavorably with their rivals' in point of circulation, still refuse to make any definite statement regarding their editions, or else make indefinite statements so untrustworthy as to be of no value to the seeker after information. No influence has done more for the correction of this evil of misrepresentation than the American Newspaper Directory, published by George P. Rowell & Co., of New York. It seems to have been the particular mission of this publication and its able ally, PRINTERS' INK, to secure for advertisers some definite information as to the circulation of the newspapers of the country. The American Newspaper Directory makes every effort to secure correct, tabulated figures of circulation for every day of the year, and has met with great success in so doing. The Publishers of the Directory place so much confidence in the ratings given papers where the publishers make detailed statements, that they guarantee the correctness of them and pay a forfeit of $100 to any person who proves such a statement to be untrue. Despite this inducement to accuracy, there are many papers which will not furnish statements of their editions. The American Newspaper Directory has rendered a great service to advertisers in general and to honest newspaper publishers in its efforts to secure actual circulation statements, and the fact that it has to a great extent righted the evil, and placed honest newspapers in the position to which they are entitled, is the best argument as to the desirability of the publication of a directory. No newspaper publisher who desires to be perfectly honest with his patrons has any grievance against the Directory, and it is only those who are too careless to furnish a statement or are afraid to let their circulation figures see the light of day, who complain of the directory's efforts to secure reliable ratings. The American Newspaper Directory is one of the most useful business publications extant.
